Introduction

What shall we use to fill the empty spaces? We examine two verses that are commonly used in the English-speaking world. For Czech equivalents use your imagination.

Verse One

Quick brown fox jumped over a lazy dog. Quick brown fox jumped over a lazy dog. Quick brown fox jumped over a lazy dog. Quick brown fox jumped over a lazy dog.

Verse Two

Round around the garden like a teddy bear. Round around the garden like a teddy bear. Round around the garden like a teddy bear. Round around the garden like a teddy bear.

Conclusion

Two silly verses were presented. It has been reported that these are known by the majority of children and so we deem them appropriate for the purposes outlined in the Introduction.
